خلاصه مقاله:

Since early centuries Muslim scholars have studied about different aspects of miracle of the holy Quran and have expressed variant ideas based upon Quran examples. Some have emphasized on its eloquence and others have selected its spiritual and cognitive usages. To gain deeper and more accurate remarks on the Quran miraculous character it is better to study through point of views of those who lived at the age of Revelation, or at least nearby. Among them, one of the best examples was Imam Ali (PBUH), the witness of descending the Revelation who was grown under the Quran's teachings, whose words lead us to realize the miraculous aspects of the holy Quran. The Quran's face have been illustrated inside the bright and clear mirror of Imam Ali's (PBUH) speeches as well as interesting and considerable descriptions. Such descriptions obviously declare majesty and multisided of Revelation and clarify many aspects of the miracle of Quran. It seems that all descriptions accompanied specially with the guidance aspect of Quran referring to the miraculous leadership and guidance of addressees for the future.
