

عنوان مقاله:

Book Review: Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages: An Introduction

محل انتشار:

فصلنامه بین المللی تحقیقات در آموزش زبان، دوره 3، شماره 4 (سال: 1397)

تعداد صفحات اصل مقاله: 4

نویسندگان:

Fatemeh Ahmadi Livani - Department of English language and literature, Islamic Azad University, Ayatollah Amoli Branch, Amol, Iran

Hamed Barjesteh - Department of English language and literature, Islamic Azad University, Ayatollah Amoli Branch, Amol, Iran

خلاصه مقاله:

Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) presents teaching techniques and procedures along with the underlying theory and principles and is comprehensible to readers who are new to the field of English Language Teaching (ELT). David Nunan (2015) proposes rich illustrations of theoretical constructs through providing practical examples of how to develop teaching materials and tasks from sound principles; he also presents content through various textual types including classroom vignettes which show language teaching in action, question and answer sessions. The book consists of twelve concise chapters: Language Teaching Methodology, Learner-Centered Language Teaching, Listening, Speaking, Reading, Writing, Pronunciation, Vocabulary, Grammar, Discourse, Learning Styles and Strategies, and Assessment.

کلمات کلیدی:

Book Review, Teaching English, Book Review

لینک ثابت مقاله در پایگاه سیویلیکا:

<https://civilica.com/doc/1148584>

