

عنوان مقاله:

Evaluation Component in the Phraseological Units of the English and Tatar Languages

محل انتشار:

مجله تحقیقات زبان شناسی کاربردی، دوره 10، شماره 0 (سال: 1398)

تعداد صفحات اصل مقاله: 7

نویسندگان:

Olesya A. Yarullina – Kazan Federal University, Kazan, Russia

Fanuza H. Tarasova – Kazan Federal University, Kazan, Russia

Elena V. Varlamova – Kazan Federal University, Kazan, Russia

Elena V. Polhovskaya – Crimea Federal University

خلاصه مقاله:

Adjectival phraseological units with the component of evaluation are studied in the article. Semantic peculiarities are basically taken into referred to. General linguistic methods and special linguistic methods were used for investigation. The purpose of the article is to find out the peculiarities of the adjectival phraseological units with the component of evaluation in the English and Tatar Languages. The material is borrowed from English and Tatar monolingual and polylingual dictionaries. The comparative analysis of the adjectival phraseological units with the evaluation component in the English and Tatar languages has not been realized before. Adjectival phraseological units with the evaluation component have been analysed in the article. Semantically the adjectival phraseological units with the evaluation component may express negative or positive attitude to reality, spheres of life, communicative process or to a person. Common and unique features have been found out in the two languages. The conclusions on structure and semantics of the adjectival phraseological units with the quality evaluation component are presented in the article

کلمات کلیدی:

Adjectival Phraseological Units, Evaluation Component, Comparative Units, Non-Comparative Units

لینک ثابت مقاله در پایگاه سیویلیکا:

<https://civilica.com/doc/1971440>

