خلاصه مقاله:

In recent decades, much attention has been paid to innovative methods in teaching foreign languages. Students who received TBLT training showed significant improvement in functional language use skills. They showed a better ability to solve problems and perform tasks that required the use of English. Students in classes that were taught using the CLT approach had significant improvements in communication skills. This approach helped them to use the language more confidently in real situations. The use of TBLT and CLT methods can transform the English language learning experience and help students deepen their knowledge and skills. Both approaches effectively allow students to use English practically in real communication situations, which improves their overall level of language proficiency. Educators should continue to develop their skills in applying TBLT and CLT methods in order to make the educational environment more favorable. Schools and educational institutions should consider that integrating these innovative approaches into curricula can have a significant impact on improving student learning outcomes. This study confirms that teaching English using task-based and communicative approaches not only improves students' language skills, but also prepares them to use the language effectively in real situations. The use of these methods should be considered as part of a more comprehensive strategy to increase the quality of language education.
