

عنوان مقاله:

The evaluation of the characteristics of the Iranian-Islamic city, the expression of how Islam affects it and its necessity in the current architecture and urbanization

محل انتشار:

پنجمین کنگره بین المللی عمران ، معماری و توسعه شهری (سال: 1396)

تعداد صفحات اصل مقاله: 19

نویسنده:

Maryam Hajilou - Master student of architecture of Khomein Azad university

خلاصه مقاله:

Considering important issues such as revival of Iranian-Islamic identity in urban spaces, paying attention to the Iranian-Islamic architectural traditions and relying on the religious and cultural values of the people to create a sustainable and urbanized architecture with a concept over time, formation The social relations of the people of the society based on religious values, a major issue in the current societies, is the move towards suitable Iranian-Islamic designs. Therefore, the profit from the fruits of Islamic urban religion is needed more than ever, because the comprehensiveness of the Islamic religion and the deep link between the various aspects of belief, social, cultural, etc., have resulted in the evaluation of Islam from the city and its related concepts, in accordance with human conduct, Spiritual Farjam of man along with the enjoyment of buildings and urban spaces and meeting the needs of the people because the religion of Islam covers all aspects of urban life, such as political, physical, and other. Therefore, the use of standardized methods to design consistent with the proposed title could result in a sustainable city with a favorable outlook. Therefore, in terms of proper construction, culture, etc., given the actions taken, this area needs to be considered more closely. The research method is descriptive-analytic. The method of collecting data through library books, documents and documents, along with the evaluation and evaluation of their various aspects. In this regard, in this research, the first is to show the emergence and development of Islamic cities in the world, before and after the introduction of Islam to the country of Iran and urbanization, the Islamic period of urbanization, the word and definition of the city, the impact of Islam on cities, definitions and Features of Islamic city, Iranian-Islamic city and its architecture and other issues. The effort in this article is to present a series of articles that could be useful for better and more effective Iranian-Islamic projects, improving the quality of Iranian-Islamic construction using the factors affecting them such as culture, architecture, etc. Create a beautiful landscape. In this research, the factors suggested increase the application of this type of architecture and urbanization to reduce the effects of Western imitation mistreatment. Finally, in this research, the result is expressed in order to better and better benefit from the subject matter studied.

کلمات کلیدی:

Iranian-Islamic city, Iranian-Islamic architecture, Islamic religion, Western buildings

لینک ثابت مقاله در پایگاه سیویلیکا:

<https://civilica.com/doc/734529>

